

Pitch Draft

While creative collaboration is incredibly important to artists, some forms of art can be isolating by nature. After long periods of time alone painting or writing, artists can find it difficult to find supportive communities to share their creations with.

Artemix is an art-first platform that redefines how artists share, connect, and collaborate. We let a true passion for art drive our match-based platform, allowing for genuine connections and meaningful collaborations between users.

Artemix – remix the way you art.
