Administrivia

CS444N, Spring 2002

Instructor: Mary Baker

Course details

- 3 units
- Limited enrollment (entrance exam required)
- Register for class giving us email address
- Subscribe to class email list, please
- Auditors may be okay, we're not sure yet
- Grades: 20% participation (readings), 30% exams, 50% project

People

- Mary Baker, mgbaker@cs.stanford.edu
  - 414 Gates
  - 650-725-3711
  - Office hours 2-4pm Fridays?? (Not quite sure yet.)
- Emre Kiciman
  - Office hours?
- Staff mailing list: cs444n-staff@cs.stanford.edu

Projects

- Important, start early
- Teams of 3 to 5 people
- Looking for projects with certain characteristics:
  - Significance
  - Research component (lessons to learn)
  - Doable in a quarter
  - Demo'able
  - Interesting to you

Projects, continued

- April 16th in-class project discussions
- A chance to propose projects and find people with similar interests
- Each person will propose at least one project that day and explain its significance and research components
- Some ideas on web page soon

Projects, continued

- By April 23th
  - Everyone will have aligned with a project group
  - Each group will submit an email project proposal
- Demo day at end of quarter
- Projects with conference-submittable paper at end don't need further write-up (and get extra points)