Old?

Why should we be concerned?

- Changes in physical function
- Changes in mental function
- Changes in employment status
- Changes in outlook on life

- Concentration peaks at 45
- Financial skills peak at 53
- Vocabulary peaks in 60s 70s
- Increased chance for disability and resulting loss of independence and decreased quality of life

Are you Old?

Aging is a continuum

Old is a matter of perspective. Your older brother is always going to be older than you.

Our view of old changes as we age and is different for each of us

How do you know if you are old?

Everyone gets older every day, but how do you know if you belong to the old group?

12

You are no longer able to procreate

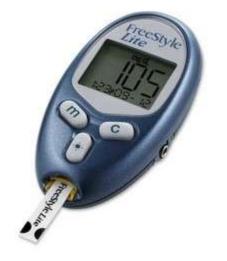

11

You see your childhood toys on Antiques Roadshow

10

When you talk BS, you are referring to your latest blood sugar reading

9

You wish you were younger

8

Your peers are considered old

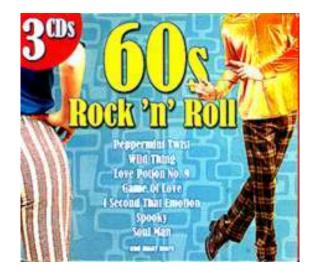

7

You are older than the President

6

You can find the music you enjoyed when you were growing up in the "Oldies" section

5

People no longer ask you "What do you want to be when you grow up?" they now ask you "When are you going to retire?" and "What are you going to do when you retire?"

4

Your drug of choice is Vitamin C

3

You are cautioned to slow down, not by the Highway Patrol, but by your doctor

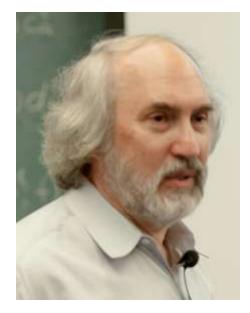

2

You are considered distinguished because of your gray hair

1

You find yourself in a college classroom, not as a student, but as an instructor
