(hereinafter called the “Licensee”) a fully-paid, non-exclusive, non-transferable and perpetual license to use the computer software MINOS 5.6 (hereinafter called the “Program”), upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set out.

The Program is subject to the US Export Administration Regulations and other US law, and may not be exported or re-exported to certain countries (currently Afghanistan (Taliban controlled areas), Cuba, Iran, Iraq, Libya, North Korea, Sudan and Syria) or to persons or entities prohibited from receiving US exports (including Denied Parties, entities on the Bureau of Export Administration Entity List, and Specially Designated Nationals).

The Licensee acknowledges that the Program is a research tool still in the development stage, and that it is being supplied “as is”, without any accompanying services from the Licensors, for the purposes of scientific collaboration aimed at further development and application of the Program and the exchange of technical data.

The Licensors make no representations or warranties, express or implied. By way of example, but not limitation, the Licensors make no representations or warranties of merchantability or fitness for any particular purpose or that the use of the licensed software component or documentation will not infringe any patents, copyrights, trademarks or other rights. The Licensors shall not be held liable for any liability nor for any direct, indirect or consequential damages with respect to any claim by Licensee or any third party on account of or arising from this Agreement or use of the Program thereunder.

The Licensee agrees that it will use the Program solely for noncommercial, internal research purposes and shall not distribute or transfer it to any person other than Licensee without prior written permission from the Licensors.

Title and copyright to the Program and any material associated therewith shall at all times remain with the Licensors and the Licensee agrees to preserve same. The Licensee agrees not to use any portion of the Program in any machine-readable form outside the Program, nor to make any copies except for its internal use, without prior written consent of the Licensors.

Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as conferring rights to use in advertising, publicity or otherwise any trademark or the name of the Licensors.
