

Reid: Haven is your pocket-sized interior designer, letting you drop true-to-scale AR furniture into your space and see your room transform in real time.

Sera: With a tap, you can share your layout with friends, who can leave comments, move items around, and suggest alternatives right on top of your design. Watching their edits appear live in your room view feels like everyone's standing there with you, debating couches and coffee tables together.

Greg: From "Does this rug make the room feel smaller?" to "What if we swap the chairs?", Haven turns interior design into a playful group chat grounded in your actual space. Haven: Making interior design easy with collaboration.
